

CAR STRIKE IN INDIANAPOLIS CAUSES RIOTS

Street Railway Employees, Who Quit Last Night, Engage in Violence Today

MUCH DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Hundreds of Citizens and Boys Assist Strikers and Service Is Abandoned

WILL GET 500 STRIKEBREAKERS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Rioting by street car employees on strike, which started at 11 o'clock last night, broke out in the heart of the business section at 9 o'clock this morning. Cars were held up and trolley ropes cut. Near the state house a motorman and conductor were taken from a car, which was left standing in the street.

The police seemed unable to cope with the strikers and hundreds of their friends. It was necessary for the police to go ahead of the cars and clear the way. Strike leaders hurled invectives at the car crews and demanded that they join the strike.

Few persons patronized the cars this morning. Many cars had to be re-routed through the downtown district to avoid greased rails. Nothing like a regular schedule was maintained. Officials declare that only ten per cent of the men are out, but the strike leaders contend that five hundred are on strike.

After more than an hour of rioting mounted police were called to drive the crowd away from the cars.

Rioting Breaks Out Again. Rioting broke out anew shortly before noon. Trolley wires were broken and down taken off two cars. The violence on a number of cars were opened, releasing the air which worked the brakes. Boys are aiding the strikers. At noon the company practically abandoned its efforts to operate the cars. Five hundred strike breakers are expected from Chicago this afternoon.

Quiet in Colorado Strike District. Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 1.—With the exception of small details left in charge of camps here and at Walsburg, the entire force of the National Guard moved today to the strikers' tent colony at Ludlow. The movement was in conformity with the agreement reached yesterday by Adjutant General Chase and Organizer Lawson of the United Mine Workers for the surrender of arms by the strikers to the militia. It is reported that the strikers have arranged a friendly demonstration for the troops upon their arrival.

STUDY SLEEPING SICKNESS

British Surgeon General to Investigate Peculiar African Malady. London, Nov. 1.—Surgeon-General Sir David Bruce, accompanied by Lady Bruce, sailed today from Southampton on the steamship Edinburgh Castle for Cape Town to conclude the investigations previously made by Sir David into the nature and origin of the sleeping sickness prevalent in Central Africa. They will travel from Cape Town by train to Beira and from there they will go up the Zambezi and Shire rivers to Lake Nyassa.

TEXAS EXHIBITION OPENS

Cotton Palace and Carnival Attracts Lone Star Citizens. Waco, Tex., Nov. 1.—The formal opening of the Texas Cotton Palace and Carnival attracted hundreds of visitors to Waco today. The management has worked hard this year to make the exposition eclipses all of its predecessors and as a result of their efforts there is assembled the best display of agricultural and other products ever seen here. The carnival program is also elaborate and provides for daily pageants and other free entertainment during the two weeks that the exposition will continue.

OFFER DR. DIXON POST.

May Become Supt. State Epileptic Farm Colony—More Salary. Lansing, Mich., Nov. 1.—Dr. Robert L. Dixon, secretary of the state board of health, has tendered the position of superintendent of the epileptic farm colony to be located at Wahkiakum, at a meeting of the commission. He has not decided if he will accept. The annual salary of the superintendent will be $3,000, while Dr. Dixon's salary as secretary is $2,500.

INJUNCTION TO BE TAKEN UP TUESDAY

Answer to Be Submitted; Oral Argument Two Weeks Later

The Michigan supreme court will next Tuesday take up the matter of the mandamus proceedings in connection with the O'Brien injunction. The proceedings relate to an order to show cause why the O'Brien injunction should not be vacated permanently. Judge O'Brien's original injunction of Sept. 29 was dissolved by him a week after it was issued and some time thereafter the supreme court rehabilitated the writ and ordered Judge O'Brien to appear at a hearing in Lansing Nov. 4 to show cause why a mandamus permanently overruling his dissolution order should not be issued.

It appears as a legal fact that Judge O'Brien has no personal interest in the Lansing hearing, which is a formal matter as far as he is concerned and in which the two sides of the controversy, the Western Federation of Miners and the mining companies, must convince the supreme court one way or the other. The contending parties prepare the answer to be filed at Lansing Nov. 4 and Judge O'Brien just signs it to accord with the supreme court order.

Judge O'Brien will be very busily engaged next Tuesday in his own court, presiding over strike case trials, while the supreme court is considering this other matter. The latter court has ordered the attorneys for both sides to appear at Lansing two weeks hence for an oral argument on the injunction as it is certain that the writ will remain in force till that time anyway.

The Contempt Proceedings

Judge O'Brien has not as yet set a date for the final hearing of the contempt cases against 141 men arrested at Alhambra and 65 arrested at Mohawk Oct. 24. It may be, of course, that these men will not have to appear in court at all, if the judge does not find them guilty.

The attorneys for both sides have agreed to submit affidavits to the court.

BIG ANTI-TRUST CASE UP MONDAY

Over 10,000 Pages of Testimony in Harvester Dissolution Suit

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—The suit of the United States vs. International Harvester company to dissolve it, will come on for hearing in the United States District court here before Circuit Judge Sanborn, Hook and Smith on next Monday. In its petition, which was filed April 29, 1912, the government alleges that the International Harvester company was organized in 1902 as a trust, in violation of the Sherman law; that its purchase of the plants, properties and business of the McCormick, Deering, and Case, Waterloo, International and Milwaukee companies created in that company a monopoly of the business in binders, mowers, rakes and binder twine in the United States; and that, in its business methods and practices, the company has increased its prices, to the grave injury of the farmers, and had coerced dealers and eliminated competitors.

Daniel Is Its Monopoly

The company, in its answer, filed Aug. 3, 1912, admitted the purchase of the harvester properties and business of the five vendor companies, but denied that the company was organized for any unlawful purpose or that such purchase gave it a monopoly in the harvester trade, or that it had in-

BELL BOY GIVES DAMAGING EVIDENCE IN FUNK CASE

Chicago, Nov. 1.—The names of former Senator Lorimer and Edward Hines were brought into record in today's session of the court in the trial of Donahoe and Steffel, charged with conspiracy to defame Funk. Edwin Steffel, a bell boy, said he was employed by Steffel to testify that Funk and Mrs. Hennessey registered together at the Grand Pacific hotel. "He asked me," Steffel testified, "if I had any grievance against Lorimer or Hines. I said I had none. Steffel gave me $25 and said I would receive $25 a week in return for testifying in the Hennessey-Funk case."

THREE MEN ARE KILLED IN HALLOWEEN ORGY TODAY

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 1.—Martin Burke and George Jones, of Detroit, and Alexander Turpin, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, were killed in a Halloween celebration early today when the driver lost control of the steering gear of an automobile. Three women and two men were painfully injured.

BIG RALLIES TO END CAMPAIGN OF BITTERNESS

New York City's Election Next Tuesday Awaited With Greatest of Interest

SULZER ISSUE LOOMS LARGE

Tammany Speakers Have Endeavored to Force Other Matters to the Front

OUTCOME IS MUCH IN DOUBT

New York, Nov. 1.—Amid a blaze of oratorical pyrotechnics and political rallies, one of the bitterest and at the same time one of the most important municipal campaigns in the history of New York City tonight reaches its climax. The candidates and other speakers will continue on the stump almost until the opening of the polls next Tuesday, but for all practical purposes the campaign may be said to close with the big rallies to be held tonight in every section of the city.

What will be the story told by the ballots next Tuesday? The usual expressions of confidence, of course, are emanating from the headquarters of the various candidates and parties, but as a matter of fact the situation today is such as to render all guessing on the results absolutely futile and worthless.

There never has been a campaign like it; there never has been a situation that could approach it for complexity and uncertainty. And there never has been a campaign that could exceed it in genuine bitterness, vituperation and charges.

Fight Against Tammany

In its broader aspects the contest does not differ from other municipal fights that have taken place in New York City in late years. It is a straight-out fight for and against Tammany Hall—a fight by Tammany to retain control of the city government and millions in annual patronage and a battle by the opposition, carrying the fusion banner, to overthrow the strongest political organization dominating any American city.

But unlike for developments since the campaign began have served to complicate the situation. The first event to upset the calculations of the political leaders was the sudden death of Mayor Gaynor, who, had he lived, would undoubtedly have made a hard fight for re-election as an independent candidate.

The removal of Mayor Gaynor from the contest simplified the situation in a measure and unquestionably relieved the mind of Tammany Hall in no small degree. Tammany never relished the idea of Gaynor heading an independent movement. With but two tickets in the field, the Tammanites have declared right along that they felt certain of victory.

Sulzer Is Big Issue

But no sooner was the Gaynor bubble out of the way than the Sulzer issue hopped up to disturb the rosy dreams of Leader Murphy and his Tammany cohorts. There are many acute politicians who do not think it is putting it too strongly to say that Sulzer is now the real pivot of the campaign. The pro-Sulzer sentiment, mostly confined to the East Side, where Sulzer is well known and liked by the large foreign element, Tammany realizes this and during the last week of the campaign has bent every effort to save its East Side districts.

The Tammany speakers have done their utmost to force other issues to the front to obscure the Sulzer matter. The Fusionists, on the other hand, have worked to keep the Sulzer issue in the public mind.

Edward E. McCall, the Tammany standard bearer, avoids little mention. Preferring by the mistakes of the past the organization carefully selected a man who was considered not likely to assert the independence displayed by McClellan, Gaynor and one or two others after Tammany had set them aside in the mayor's chair.

Opinion differs as to the strength of John Purroy Mitchell, the Fusionist candidate for mayor. Mr. Mitchell has a clean record and his capability for the office he seeks is unquestioned. He has been endorsed by every element of the Tammany opposition, even Mr. Hearst's Independence League, which in previous campaigns has been a thorn in the side of the anti-Tammany forces.

Murphy's Downfall Sought

Dismissing to the Fusion leaders, however, is the attitude of some Republicans. They make no bones of

NOVEMBER MORN

MICHIGAN IS MINUS TORBET'S SERVICES

Team Goes Into Game Without a Fullback Yost Depended On

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 1.—After he had spent the greater part of the week training a man especially to play fullback against Syracuse, Coach Yost today was forced to send the Wolverines into the game minus the services of the player he hoped would bolster up Michigan's weakest spot so far this season. The player, "Squib" Torbet, was injured in Thursday's scrimmage and this served to dampen the hopes of victory. Somewhat of setting the most mishap was the appearance for the first time this year of Craig, whose recent playing was a source of strength to the 1912 team.

Great Crowd at Madison.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—Eighteen thousand seats were sold in advance of today's Minnesota-Wisconsin game. The fact that the University of Wisconsin alumni is celebrating its annual "homecoming" served to augment the throng attracted solely by the game. Neither coach was willing to predict his men would do better than to "hold them to a close score."

Chicago Is the Favorite.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Illinois and Chicago, the two undefeated eleven of the western intercollegiate conference, met here today to determine which team must drop from the championship race. Critics concede the winner will have a substantial claim to the championship, as both Minnesota and Wisconsin have been defeated by non-conference teams. Chicago was the favorite. Three thousand rosters accompanied the Illinois team.

Harvard Is Weakened.

Brickley, the brilliant halfback, is not in the best of condition, and can play only part of the game.

Brickley, the brilliant halfback, is not in the best of condition, and can play only part of the game.

Navy Team Is Powerful.

Annapolis, Nov. 1.—The navy goes into today's game with the heaviest and most powerful lot of players ever representing the academy and they are determined to wipe out the 11 to 0 defeat administered by Lehigh last season.

Army Vs. Notre Dame.

West Point, Nov. 1.—The army had the biggest home game of the year on its hands today with Notre Dame. The struggle, being inter-sectional, was of special interest, for both teams had splendid representatives of their respective classes.

Ames Meets Nebraska.

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 1.—Ideal weather and big crowds were features for the Ames-Nebraska game. Wormhout, Ames star tackle, injured in the Missouri-Ames game, will not be in the line-up.

CELEBRATE CHARTER DAY

Middlebury, Vt., Nov. 1.—Charter Day, in observance of the 115th anniversary of the founding of the college, was celebrated with interesting exercises at Middlebury college today. A Barton Hepburn, of New York, delivered the oration of the day.

SEEKS LIGHT ON TRUST QUESTION

Wilson Orders Investigation of Monopoly and Competition

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 1.—The beginning of a new scientific investigation of the industrial situation, under the direction of President Wilson, which will contribute to the administration's trust legislation program at the session of Congress beginning December 1, was announced here by Commissioner Joseph E. Davies, of the Bureau of Corporation in an address before the National Association of Hardware Dealers.

Whether a competitive system of

SECOND MESSAGE LIKELY ON MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 1.—There was discussion today in official circles of the possibility that President Wilson might send a message to Congress giving a detailed report of what has occurred since he last informed Congress of the Mexican situation. There is indication at the White House of such a plan.

No Change in Situation.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary Bryan said today there was no change in the Mexican situation. He conferred with the president, after which he started for Maryland to address the voters.

Mrs. Lind Saves Two Deputies.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The steamer that arrived last night from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators who owe their liberty, if not their lives, to her quick wit and generosity.

To Save the Two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz, Mrs. Lind hid them in her stateroom and sat up all night on deck until the boat left port and the officers of the Huerta government had gone ashore.

A week ago the cables brought word that the Ward liner Morro Castle had been detained at Vera Cruz while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of the state of Vera Cruz. Until the Morro Castle arrived here tonight only those aboard knew that two of the eight legislators had escaped arrest.

These two, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel A. Cordero, say they will stay in New York until Mexico becomes a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

COSTLY FIRE IN THE FEUD TOWN OF JACKSON, KEN.

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 1.—Practically the whole business section of Jackson, the scene of many feud murders, was destroyed by fire early today. Two blocks of buildings were burned, including the postoffice, Thompson hotel, two churches and a score of residences. The loss is estimated at $150,000. The governor has been asked for militia to protect the property.

THRILLING RESCUE BRINGS BIG REWARD

North Carolina Man Remembered by Carnegie Commission

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—Nearly $100,000 is disbursed to heroes or their relatives by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in its report made public today. The commission distributes immediately $50,000 in awards of $2,000 and $1,000. There are 16 awards of $2,000 and 33 of $1,000. The remainder are in awards consisting of pensions ranging from $5 to $25 a month, and in cash sums under $1,000. In every award a medal is given, either bronze or silver. In a few instances only a medal was awarded.

The highest award, consisting of a gold medal and $2,000 in cash money, goes to Charles N. Wright, a merchant, 35 years old, of Highlands, N. C., who with William L. Dillard, a journeyman, 35 years old, of the same place, helped to save B. Augustus Dillard, a carpenter, 26 years old, from a fall down a precipice at that place May 14, 1911. Dillard receives a silver medal and $2,000.

Baty had fallen from the summit of Whiteside mountain at Fools Rock and rolled 150 feet down an almost vertical cliff, and looked against a small bush, 2 inches from the brink of a precipice, 2,000 feet deep, part of his body dangling over the edge.

A Thrilling Rescue.

Wright and Dillard descended the vertical ledge, their only footholds or footholds being ridges and hollows not more than an inch in height or depth. Wright's wife saw him and began to scream. He was nearly unnerved, but pushed on. Scoping at a tiny bush he tore above Baty's head and braved a ledge 2 feet above the brink and then grasped Baty's coat collar. Baty gave a sudden jerk, but became quiet when Wright threatened him.

Flinging his legs around the bush, Wright drew Baty up to a place of comparative safety, where Dillard, who had lost his nerve in the final stages of the rescue, was waiting. The two men now took Baty, who was dazed, 15 feet across the bare face of the cliff, within 15 inches of the brink. Then they moved Baty to the foot of the vertical ledge at the summit, from which point he was hoisted by means of a line. He recovered. The rescue took two hours and 30 minutes.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Rosalie J. Wakefield of Bristol, mother of three little children, was found guilty of first degree murder for her part in the killing of her husband, William Wakefield, last June.

Mrs. Wakefield is not the first woman to be convicted of first degree murder in Connecticut, but a woman has been hanged in the state since 1875.

ATROCITIES REPORTED IN BOLIVIAN RUBBER DISTRICTS.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Unofficial reports have been received here of alleged outrages on Bolivian natives in the rubber country almost paralleling the Putumayo atrocities in Peru. It is expected the United States will investigate and report to London.

COULD "GET" BOTH MURPHY AND FRAWLEY

Ex-State Senator Stilwell So Declared, in Sing Sing, to Sulzer Investigator

REFUSED THE INFORMATION

Contents of Hennessey's Little Black Book Are Made Public Today

PRISONER ASKED PARDON FIRST

New York, Nov. 1.—The contents of Investigator Hennessey's little black book as far as it related to his conference at Sing Sing with Stephen J. Stilwell, convicted senator, were made public here today. The book was placed in evidence at the John Doe inquiry yesterday, but was not made public. It reveals no confession.

The names of Charles F. Murphy, Senator Frawley and others are mentioned, but after forming for hours with Hennessey, Stilwell refused to answer anybody's question of anything, insisting that he first get his pardon. This was refused, and the negotiations were dropped.

The interview, in the warden's office, with a stenographer as an observer, continued for hours. The stenographic report is broken and disjointed, explained to have been due to the notes of passing trains. The dialogue shows a keen verbal duel between Hennessey and Stilwell—the latter evasive and fearful of betrayal, the former seeking diligently for a disclosure he believed might permit Sulzer to challenge impeachment.

Says He Could Jail Murphy. The dialogue in part:

Hennessey—"You mean you want a pardon before you make affidavits?" Stilwell—"I will give you affidavits or anything, but I can't go before a grand jury. I will go the limit. I will prevent them voting against the governor. I will put Murphy in jail and Frawley there too, but I must protect myself. There is no question but that you can get Frawley. I am pretty sure you can impeach Murphy, but I can't see my way clear. I know what it means. If my pardon is not there I have got to come back; there is no use talking. I can't do it, even if I've got to serve the limit and take the chance of killing myself rather than have it handed to me."

Here Stilwell continued his demand for a pardon, first. The record goes on:

"If I am outside a minute I would do it, whether I gained anything or not. I would get Murphy if it was the last thing before I died. I have reasons for doing it."

Hennessey—"Why is it that a man like Murphy can do these things for years and nobody knows it?" Stilwell—"Because the fellows who know it are generally afraid to come out. Where does Murphy get all his money? He is rolling in money—he never had an office."

Hennessey—"What about Frawley getting money from the breweries?" Stilwell—"I can prove that. He always took money on those things. Each of them got $5,000 a year from the brewery association interests."

Testifies Against Murphy.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 1.—John A. Hennessey, former Governor Sulzer's chief investigator, who has been campaigning against Tammany hall, testified on the witness stand yesterday afternoon and declared that William
